MEMORIES OF THE PAST

Can anything be more pleasant in the busy hum-drum of after years, than to permit your mind to wander back to the days of school life, the sweet memories and incidents that come up like a flash to the old schoolhouse door, that has so often admitted you, swinging back and forth on its great hinges; the very walls speaking forth of happy hours; while at your side stands the noble teacher who has watched your every move, and is as much interested in your success as you are yourself. As these pleasant recollections come back to one, the eye is almost moistened as he realizes those days are gone forever, and so many who look back in those happy hours as well. On we sit and contemplate that never again in this life will those days return, that the participants who so joyously together in the school room and play ground pledged loyalty and faith to the old school, and whose memories are the most pleasant in our life, are scattered far and wide, and some departed forever to their eternal home. When this is realized, sad indeed, is the heart, and the swift with which the years pass by, makes one understand that we are journeying toward the setting sun.

Of course it may not be true that the world is growing better, but our observation is that roosters do not fight among themselves as much as they used to.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blast of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky.
Hats off! The flag is passing by!
Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.

Hats off!
The colors before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.
Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the State;
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips:

Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honor and revered awe;

Sign of a nation, great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong
Pride and glory and honor, all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blast of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high.
Hats off! The flag is passing by!
